NEW COURSE ASSESSMENT REPORTING TOOL: In an effort to automate and simplify reporting and gathering of assessment of course student learning, the IRAE Office will soon pilot an Online Assessment Reporting Form (see figure below). The new online tool will utilize the same system as the Student Course Evaluation and, once implemented, will solicit assessment results from faculty in a period surrounding the end of classes. As the figure below shows, the tool will allow faculty, for every course and every learning outcome, to upload the evidence collected, the conclusions, and any planned actions. The tool will also provide help and examples. We look forward to hearing your encouraging comments.

LIBRARY

The AUP Library and ACE share two new initiatives:

To honor Danielle Savage's legacy of devotion and service to AUP students, the AUP Library and ACE have created the SAVAGE CAREER DEVELOPMENT COLLECTION within AUP's Library. This collection features a variety of topics that help students prepare for their professional lives. The topics deal with resumes, going from college to career, how to be a woman in a predominantly male management environment, common mistakes and concessions women should not do in the workplace, how to make recruiters and employers interested in you, landing on your first job, remaining focused on career goals, intercultural communications and management across cultures, career moves, some general psychology, theories of personality, and how to develop your leadership skills among other things.

The Library will gather, catalog and make a

Ruth Corran, Claudia Roda, Jeff Gima and comp lit student Sam Wertz (project: “Developing a data science module for Comparative Literature”), and David Tresilian and Michael Stoepel (collaborative project with AUI: “Student-Led Peer Interviews between Europe and the Arab World”).
